THE ENGLISH DIVORCE COURT.

The new Divorce Law in England has been working too well. The number of cases demanding relief is so great as to call for a larger force of Judges to dispose of them. The seven Judges who were two years ago thought sufficient, are found wanting, and Lord Chancellor Campbell proposes making it the duty of all the sixteen Judges of England to take their turn at unsleeping discordant couples. The Lord Chancellor, in bringing the subject before the House of Lords did advise increasing the gross number of Judges, but an addition to the force of the Probate and Divorce Court by calling in the help of those now existing, in rotation. One reason of this seems to be that it is clear that the press of business will be as great when the new Court has to deal only with the regularly accruing fresh cases. The great press of work has been occasioned by the crowd of chronic sufferers who have grasped at the first chance from their held out to them of relief matrimonial disorders. Hitherto, no one to poor to be able to obtain a verdict with damages against the adulterer the Courts of Law, and a divorce mensa et thoro in the Parliament to ask for an act of Divorce the Ecclesiastical Courts, could approach which would permit him to marry again. And women had not even this chance as there was no instance of a woman's getting this relief, unless where the husband had committed adultery with her own sister. Now cases of long standing are brought into Court, and it cannot be inferred till these are worked off, what the amount of steady business will be. But this very fact shows the amount of domestic misery which had been accumulating for so long, and which had demanded that this species of justice should be made the right of all, and not merely the luxury of the rich.

Another proposition of the Lord Chancellor is to permit the Divorce Court to sit with closed doors, whenever the Judges think that public decency requires such segregation. Now, it can only be done by consent of parties. Several noble lords opposed this clause, on the general ground of the right of the public to know what was doing in its courts, and the importance of publicity to prevent abuse of power. The majority, however, agreed to it, so that there is danger of this source of public amusement being suppressed. The opposition was earnest, and it is not likely that public sentiment and public curiosity will permit the closing of the doors of this tribunal, except in case of the most revolting character. And in these cases it will be perfectly inoperative, inasmuch as these cases are the very ones about which the most morbid interest will be felt, and at the facts of which people will get one way or another. Another clause proposes to give the Divorce Court the power of making such orders as it thinks right for the custody of the children of the dissolved marriage. They can now be taken from the father only through the tedious and expensive process of a resort to Chancery. This will be a long step in the right direction, and the proposal comes with a good grace from the Lord Chancellor, who is the legal guardian of all such waifs and strays. And it is proposed to authorize the Court to call in the assistance of the Attorney-General in cases where it has reason to believe that there is collusion between the parties. All these propositions were fully discussed and strongly controverted, but they all were retained in the bill as it went through the committee.

Another clause was admitted to the bill, with the Chancellor's consent, permitting persons domiciled in Ireland, India, or any of the colonies, to sue for divorce before this Court. Scotland was not included, as it is already furnished with the necessary machinery for breaking those fetters she used to provide a blacksmith to put on. The fact that a majority of the Irish Judges are Catholics, who have an invincible repugnance to any dissolution of marriage by a less infallible authority than that of the Holy Father at Rome, renders it impossible to establish a court in that kingdom analogous to the English one. The only remedy the Irish have in such calamity is the old one of an Act of Parliament, preceded by the actions in the Common Law and Ecclesiastical Courts. Indeed, it was stated that Irish parties desirous of divorce had removed to London and acquired domicile there, for the purpose of getting within its jurisdiction.

When we consider how entire a change the erection of the Divorce Court worked in the long accustomed habits of mind and action of the English people, it must be allowed to have justified the wisdom that planned and established it. No word is said by the most violent of its original opposers against its general working, or in favor of its abolition. All seem desirous of making its operation as perfect as possible; and, though there must be wide diversities of opinion as to the best way of doing this, these very differences must finally result in its increased dignity and usefulness. —N. Y. Tribune.

THE GOLD RETURNS OF VICTORIA.—From the circular prepared by Messrs. W. Clark and Sons, of Melbourne, we give the following return, omitting fractional parts.—Returns of gold receipts by escort since the opening of the gold fields:—1851, 104,154 oz.; 1852, 2,039,382 oz.; 1853, 1,874,400 oz.; 1854, 1,476,666 oz.; 1855, 2,132,398 oz.; 1856, 225,968 oz.; 1857, 2,481,020 oz.; 1858, 2,371,278 oz.; 1859, 817,411 oz. The total quantity of gold brought to town by escort since the discovery of gold was 15,922,979 oz. The total shipments of gold during the same period amounts to 18,451,964 oz. of which the following are the details:—Gold exported.—1851, 145,146 oz.; 1852, 1,974,975 oz.; 1853, 2,497,723 oz.; 1854, 2,144,699 oz.; 1855, 2,576,745 oz.; 1856, 3,093,811 oz.; 1857, 2,729,655 oz.; 1858, 2,536,983 oz.; 1859, 842,222. —Australian and New Zealand Gazette.

—We have heard of cool things; but never anything cooler than the following: The landlord of a hotel in Independence called a boarder to him one day and said: "Look here, I want you to pay your bill, and you must. I've asked you often enough, and you don't leave my house till you pay it." "Good," said his lodger, "just put that in writings, make a regular agreement of it, and I'll stay with you as long as you live."

GAS COMPANY.—Messrs. John T. Little, M. L. Culvert, and others, petitioned the Assembly yesterday, to incorporate them into a Company to supply Victoria with Gas; and grant them the exclusive right for a number of years. By all means incorporate them, and give them the right to dig up the Streets to lay down the pipes, and sue and be sued; but never give an exclusive privilege for one moment. Down with monopoly. Let every man have the right to supply the town with gas. It would be a nice job to give a few speculators the sole privilege to make and sell gas. We have been cursed enough with monopoly, without multiplying the means to make independent fortunes at the expense of the community. If this were allowed the next dodge would be a water monopoly, and a steamboat monopoly. Give no individual or individuals any exclusive advantage. Treat all men alike. Competition is the best safeguard to the public to be served well and cheaply. If a gas company is saddled on the town for one or seven years, the consumer will be charged what the company pleases,—a scheme will be started to tax the town for lighting the Streets,—and the public will have no guarantee after the original stock-holders sell their scrip that the Company will exist afterwards. Free trade and no monopoly is the doctrine. If the petitioners cannot supply the town with gas on the general principle of business competition some one else will as soon as there is evidence that it will pay.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

TUESDAY, 11 A. M.

Messages.

Several Messages were received from his Excellency the Governor.

1. Acknowledging the receipt of three bills passed by the House, viz: Increase of Representatives, Registration of Voters, and to Amend Representation.
2. Bill to protect Wooden Bridges would be laid before the Council.
3. Bill to regulate Interest of Money in Vancouver Island, to be laid before the Council.
4. Petition of the inhabitants of Victoria to the House of Assembly to reduce the price of public lands, and the address of the House of Assembly on the same subject to the Duke of Newcastle, will be forwarded to the Colonial Office, with such remarks as his Excellency may consider suitable to the occasion.
5. Reply in relation to the resolution of the House requesting the Governor to donate £250 to Royal Hospital, from the general revenue of the colony, is as follows: "In reply to which I beg to inform the House that the General Revenue of the Colony, by which I presume the House means the proceeds derived from the sales of public land, is insufficient to meet the ordinary and indispensable wants of the Colony.

The revenue derived from Spirit-Licenses has been already expended by vote of the House, and no funds whatever remain in the Exchequer.

I therefore desire that the House will at once take measures, either by way of loan or otherwise, to provide the sum of £250, which has been so considerably voted for the relief of the Hospital, otherwise the humane intention of the House cannot be carried out."

6. Rev. Mr. Cridge's claim to a renewal of engagement as Chaplain of Vancouver's Island:

"I have to acknowledge the receipt of your Speaker's communication of the 20th Sept., conveying a resolution of the House in reply to my message of Sept. 10, relative to a renewal of the engagement of the Rev. Mr. Cridge as Colonial Chaplain of Vancouver's Island.

While thanking the House for the consideration given to the message, I have to call its attention to the same subject. The House being of the opinion as stated in your reply that the Rev. Mr. Cridge, "was evidently led by the memorandum of agreement dated August 12, 1854, to expect a renewal of his engagement, contingent upon faithful services, I conceive that we are bound, in honor and good faith, to accept the tender of his services as Chaplain; and beg to be informed if the House concur with me in that opinion."

7. Franchise Bill returned.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, Oct. 21, 1859.
To the Speaker of House of Assembly:

I am directed by his Excellency the Governor and Legislative Council of Vancouver's Island to return the bill entitled "a Bill to amend the Law relating to the Representatives of Vancouver's Island and its Dependencies,"—and to say, the Governor and Council consider all the amendments made by the House of Assembly expedient and proper, except the amendments lowering the rental and freehold qualifications, which they still think should be maintained at £20 and £100 respectively.

I am therefore directed to request that you will submit those amendments to the House for reconsideration.

EDWARD CRIDGE,
Hon. Secretary of the Council.
Gas Company Petition.

Mr. Skinner introduced a petition from John T. Little and M. L. Culvert, praying the passage of a bill to incorporate the Victoria Gas Company. After representing the safety to life by lighting the streets, and also the tendency of gas to reduce crime, the petition prays:—

"That in order to carry out works of sufficient extent for the proposed purposes, a very large outlay of money will be required for which the association cannot, in the present early stage of the growth of the colony, possibly expect to be fairly remunerated unless exclusive privileges are granted to them for a reasonable number of years for the manufacture and supply of gas to the place."

Motions Unanswered.

Mr. Yates inquired why it was his Excellency had not replied to his motion for return of Civil List, and in relation to Currency.

The Speaker said he had called the attention of his Excellency to it.

Mr. Yates thought his Excellency had treated the House with great discourtesy by not answering it.

Adjourned to meet at 11 A. M. Friday,

DEATH OF ALPHONSE KAINDLER, Esq.—We are pained to learn, through a private letter from San Francisco, that our late townsman, Mr. Kaindler, who was expected hither per Northern, died suddenly on the 16th inst. His loss will be much deplored by a large circle of friends in Victoria, to whom he was endeared alike for his business probity and urbane social character.

The Horse races will come off tomorrow at the Beacon Hill Course.

ANOTHER STEAMER.—Mr. Trolly has set up the ribs of a small steamer, at Dead Man's Point,—length on deck 75 feet. The floor timbers and knees are made from the natural curve of the oak, which will exceed in strength any steamer yet built here. Besides, we believe that her model will excel any boat constructed in Victoria.

From the Atlantic States and Europe.

The steamship Northerner arrived at Port Townsend yesterday noon, with the Atlantic and European mails, from New York to the 20th ult. By steamer Julia, from Port Townsend last evening, we are placed in possession of news per Northerner.

Lieut. Gen. Winfield Scott arrived at Port Townsend on the mail steamer, accompanied by Col. L. Thomas, Asst. Adj. General, and Col. G. W. Lay, Military Secretary. The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald under date of Sept. 19th, says:

I am authorized to say that the sending Gen. Scott to the Pacific coast is simply to prevent complications in the San Juan affair. It implies no censure upon Gen. Harney. Gen. Scott was selected because of his experience and clear judgement, and because there was no other General who could be sent to supersede or rank Gen. Harney without implying disapprobation. The administration does not apprehend any serious difficulty, and hopes the British government will be brought to see our undoubted right to the Island of San Juan. Lord Lyons had a long interview with the Secretary of State to-day in regard to the Island of San Juan. His lordship is of opinion that the questions in dispute between the two governments will be satisfactorily arranged.

The same correspondent under date of Sept. 14th, says Colonel Hawkins yesterday brought despatches concerning the San Juan dispute to the British Legation, and then left for New York to take passage for England, with despatches from Governor Douglas to Her Majesty's government on the same subject.

Mr. Campbell, Boundary Commissioner, who has been engaged for upwards of two years in arranging the boundary in dispute, had before him the full and entire views of our government upon the subject, and as the administration supposed had nearly arranged the whole matter, when intelligence of Gen. Harney's seizure of the island of San Juan reached Washington. The administration are somewhat at a loss to know what to do, inasmuch as they have not heard one word from Mr. Campbell since the difficulty.

No increase of the United States naval forces in the Pacific is contemplated in consequence of the San Juan Island dispute.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15, 1859.

The recent Convention between Great Britain and Guatemala, defining the boundaries of Belize, does not threaten a disturbance of our peaceful relations with England nor embarrass the settlement of our Central American differences.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says:

Gen. Scott's mission to the Pacific became necessary; because the Administration was unwilling to recede from the position taken by Gen. Harney, and is yet indisposed to advance. His instructions confer full discretion to preserve peace until diplomacy can adjust the difference; or, if a collision should have occurred, about which the President entertains some anxiety, to effect temporary arrangements. Lord Lyons has united in friendly efforts to effect a settlement.

If the supposition entertained in army circles be correct, that a joint occupation of the island of San Juan precedent to decision by negotiations, will result from Gen. Scott's mission, then the report that Lord Lyons is satisfied with the action of the Administration seems quite reasonable. It is stated that no instructions were sent to Gen. Harney.

The Boston Courier says the New York Democratic State Convention assembled at Syracuse on Wednesday morning; but before there had been time to offer up a prayer, the rivals were fighting.

European News.

We are in possession of European news to Sept. 15th, a synopsis of which we clip from the S. F. Bulletin:

A terrible accident occurred on board the steamship Great Eastern, during her trial trip. The feed-pipe casing to one of her funnels exploded, and five of her firemen were instantly killed, while a number of others were badly wounded. The furniture and cabin of the steamer were considerably injured. The damage thus sustained was estimated at $5,000. Otherwise, the ship and machinery sustained no serious injury. Mr. Scott Russell had undertaken to repair the steamer, and engaged to have her ready for sea within three weeks.

The Overland mail from China, had arrived at London with intelligence that hostilities had been renewed between the Chinese and the English and French forces before Canton. The English and French Secretaries of Legation to China returned home in the mail steamer. The London Times says that henceforth negotiations must be carried on at Peking, where no one can doubt Europeans will soon be as much at home and as safe as at Paris. It concludes an article with the following complimentary reflections on the American Ambassador:

"The American Ambassador, without force of arms, is said to have been admitted at Peking. Of course he had a peculiar claim to this exceptional privilege, on account of the assistance given to the Chinese mandarins to deprive us of the just fruits of the late successful war. Whether this or some new claim of the same character rendered him more admissible than those who had opened the way to him, does not yet appear. If the Americans can open China by peaceful methods, let them do it, but thus far they seem better able to help themselves than to do anything for the world at large."

These disasters had induced the British and French Home Governments to take active and speedy measures to pursue the war vigorously and at an early day. Large reinforcements are to be sent out at once to assist the combined movement against the Chinese.

The new Reform movement, under the auspices of Mr. Cobden and others, was in progress.

Sir William Eyre died on Sept. 15.

Leigh Hunt is dead.

The advices by the Overland mail from India, represented that signs of disaffection and mutiny still continued to be manifested in some portions of India, especially in Madras.

The latest advices from Rome represented that the fever, from the first attacks of which the Pope had partially recovered, had returned, and His Holiness was believed to be at the point of death. It was even reported that he had received the "extreme unction."

It was reported that both the French and English Governments have agreed to the assembling of a Congress of all the great powers for the purpose of a final settlement of the Italian question.

The King of Belgium had gone to France to confer with the Emperor Napoleon.—The object of his visit was reported to have reference to difficulty between Austria and Belgium.

Advices received from Paris represented that the French Government was making vigorous naval preparations with a view of strengthening the coast defences of the Empire.
